RE: Reference for Mr. Vu Do Dung

This letter serves as a reference for "Danny" Vu Do Dung on behalf of Junction AI Inc. As CEO, I recruited and hired Danny as our Lead Machine Learning Engineer.

In his time with Junction AI Danny was a valued team member and expert resource in helping us design, build and operate our leading-edge artificial intelligence/machine learning solutions. Danny's academic background, achieving his PHD during his time with us, brought rigour, innovations, and valuable research to help inform our solution design. He consistently and eagerly participated in workshops and discussions on solution approaches, always offering up ideas and concepts, examples, and other useful information to inform our decisions. Danny worked specifically on our Generative AI solutions for ecommerce. He worked well with the engineering team, engaging other resources and learning from their speciality skills as well. Danny was always a team player and made the extra effort every week to help build our team culture as well.

During his time with Junction AI Danny also expanded his skills and capabilities through hands on code skill building on both the AWS and Azure environments, working directly with our CTO. This was critical training in taking design or concepts and manual validations of models into production systems for business users. For any AI/ML department or company this is a key demand and Danny constantly sought to learn, ask questions, and engage to build and refine his skills.

I am happy to provide further reference details for Danny and I whole heartedly recommend him for a role in this sector.

Best regards,

Vance Reavie
