SUBJECT: Letter of recommendation for Do Dung Vu

To whom it may concerns,

It is with great pleasure and interest that I support the candidacy of Do Dung Vu for a position in your organization. Mr. Vu is currently completing his doctoral studies under my supervision. It is therefore as his thesis supervisor but also as a witness of his progression in the laboratory that I lead, that I am writing this letter of recommendation.

M. Vu is part of my research lab team since the beginning of his PhD. During that time, he has demonstrated an immense talent for analyzing, researching, synthesizing, and developing innovative solutions. Our numerous scientific discussions allowed myself to be the privileged witness of his evolution. His abilities and character have crystallized to form a researcher of right with an exceptional ethical sense.

Mr. Vu is a discreet, autonomous and efficient student. He did not hesitate to take online courses to deepen and extend his technical and theoretical knowledge. Over time, he has thus become the laboratory expert in deep learning and more particularly in natural language processing. His resourcefulness and curiosity have allowed him to establish lasting contacts with companies here and abroad; these contacts enabled him to subsidize part of his studies and to carry out experiments in an industrial environment.

Given the exceptional quality of his application and his very active involvement in fundraising to support his research plans, it is without any hesitation that I highly recommend Do Dung Vu's candidacy. I am sure that regardless of the challenges that await him in your organization, he will be able to meet them with competence and professionalism.

Cordialement,
